

Looking After Grace

Sept. 2015

By Wendy

Today when Grace's mum left, Grace looked sad and she was in tears. Ana at first you were happy to see Grace coming but then you saw her sad face. Your face expression changed from happy to worry as you stood close and watched her. Then you quickly went and got a tissue for her. You stood up on your tiptoes and wiped the tears off gently for her.

What Ana might have learnt in the story?

Ana, Grace is your friend and she loves to look after you. Today you took the opportunity to look after your big friend in return by showing her your love and concern. You are developing a sense of responsibility for other people's well-being.

Ana you are a small person with big loving heart! Grace felt much better after your kind deed and she soon stopped crying and started to play with you.
