

Dear Chelsea Children, Parents and Whanau! Hello Darlings!
How are you all doing out there? I thought I would write a wee post every now and then and share some of the things I've been up to! You might like to take some pics and share them too!

I have decided that every day I will go for a big walk over the riding club where I live! There are quite a few hills so I think by the end of this Rāhui I will be quite a lot fitter than I was at the start! I saw this post on facebook about calling the lockdown a Rāhui and thought that was fab! I much prefer the idea of a Rāhui than a lockdown-lockdown sounds too much like PRISON! HA HA !

I'm dropping the word
"lockdown" from my vocabulary. I prefer to think of the next 4 weeks as a...

❤️ RĀHUI ❤️

Because this is about honouring the earth, protecting the people & nourishing the spirit - all for the greater good.

It's a very beautiful sunny day today with a little rain in the morning. I went to feed my horse and there was a stunning big rainbow in the sky!

The black horse is my big boy Rommie-saying hello to his friend
William as we walk down the race.

This is where I live-I rent a slice of the house on the left hand side of the picture-it's my little studio! I live on the North Shore Riding Club. There are 70 horses that live here and me! The two big sand squares you can see are riding arenas. We are lucky to have some lovely bush here, Prince Andrew and Kate came to visit to officially mark it becoming a protected piece of native bush on their recent visit to NZ.

Over and out from me and my shadow!

Lots of love to you!
Julie Wulie xoxox

Responses on Storypark

Jessica Hing (Freyja )

Wow Julie, what a fabulous place to have as your backyard. Freyja will be very excited to hear you live near horses, she is very interested in horses, cos you know, they are basically unicorns without horns 🤔 ha ha ha ! Yes thats right-they ARE unicorns without horns!

×

Julie Killick

×

Julie Killick

Ps You would be very welcome to bring Freyja up to meet my horse if you would like to one day!

×

Julie Killick

pps when the Rāhui is over of course! xoxoxox

×

Jessica Hing (Freyja )

Oh she would LOVE that - yes can't wait for all this to be over...

×

Sidonia Greenbank (Jack )

OMG, what a little piece of heaven you live in Julie. I'm so happy for you, can't believe you live with all the horses. I can't wait to show your story and photos to Jack in the morning. He has been looking at my old photo albums where I used to be on horses all the time. He said he'd love to go horse riding with me someday. Would it be possible to organise a kindy trip up there? We would LOVE to come and visit and meet your gorgeous big boy. PS I have never seen you wearing pants but your shadow suggest you don't wear a colourful dress when caring for your hoses :)

×

Sidonia Greenbank (Jack )

... caring for your horses rather than hoses :)

×

Julie Killick

ha ha ha Yes Sidonia I usually wear Jods when I'm with the horses, though I have ridden with a dress over my jods from time to time! ha ha Yes sure we can organise a visit! I look forward to hearing what Jack says about the pics! xoxox

x

Boeun Kim (Yunie)

Love to hear your daily life up there.

Yunie kept looking at your story and told me, Julie lives with my favorite two things, rainbow and a horse!

Hope you have a peaceful time with Rommie :-)

x

Julie Killick

awww Boeun! That is so lovely! Thanks for sharing that with me! Please give Yunie a hug from me! xoxo

x

Linda Keepa (Mikaere)

Hi Julie, That looks a fantastic place to live: I do like Rahui as a word. Such nice connotations. Take care. Nanny K