

Photographic Exploration

Wow! What an interesting series of photos I noticed you have explored today Hannah.

This morning as you arrived at Kindergarten your good friend Emma was busy taking photos. After she took your photo I asked if you would like to take some photos too and you smiled and responded positively to this suggestion. Off you both went with your cameras in hand exploring and investigating. A little while later I spotted you both in the book area photographing colourful pages of animals. You were both happy and engaged, absorbed in your photography exploration. Then it was soon time to download your photos - all 160 of them! Hannah we reviewed your photos in a slide show and as it was playing through I was struck by this series of interesting photos that you had explored with our coloured cubes. You smiled as I expressed how wonderful I thought they were telling me they were of your foot. I think I can also see your hand Hannah and that you have captured some very interesting and creative images.

WHAT LEARNING IS NOTICEABLE HERE?

Hannah and Emma were engaged in their photography for sustained time this morning - absorbed in their inquiry . These wonderful images reflect Hannah's creative approach and her interest in investigating an idea. They have emerged as a series of creative, colourful and images. I have suggested to Hannah that she might like to scrapbook with these and she responded positively to this idea. I think that they would look awesome framed also and will add another dimension to children interest in photography here at PMK.

August 2010

By Marianne

Photographic Exploration

